Philipp Schwartz and Inspireurope Stakeholder Forum

22–24 May 2023 | Berlin

Agenda

The 2023 Philipp Schwartz and Inspireurope Stakeholder Forum, convened by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation's Philipp Schwartz Initiative and Inspireurope+, will bring together up to 400 scholars, host institutions, and partner organisations across Europe to address topics related to the protection of academic freedom and the support of researchers at risk. Researchers, administrators and other stakeholders will present their perspectives on institutional, national, European and global initiatives to promote academic freedom and support scholars. A particular focus will be placed on mutual learning opportunities for at-risk scholars, academic mentors, and administrators working to support at-risk academics and to strengthen academic freedom. European and national government officials and other policymakers will also participate alongside representatives from NGOs, SAR sections, and higher education institutions across Europe.

The conference language will be English. Parts of the programme will be available online via online streaming (day 1) and through hybrid virtual rooms (day 2). The times indicated represent Central European Summer Time. Please note that this event is by invitation only and requires advance registration.

The Philipp Schwartz Initiative

Under the Philipp Schwartz Initiative, the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation has been granting funding to universities and research institutions in Germany to host threatened researchers for a period of two years since 2016. The host institutions receive funding that completely covers the costs of a research fellowship or an employment contract. Sponsorship can be extended by one year under a co-financing model. In addition, the host institution is granted an allowance of € 20,000 per individual sponsored. This financial support is complemented by the provision of a platform to connect host institutions, researchers at risk and other organisations active in this field. Its highlight is the annual Philipp Schwartz Forum. So far, 454 researchers from 26 countries have been sponsored under the Philipp Schwartz Initiative.

Who was Philipp Schwartz?

The pathologist Philipp Schwartz (*19 / 07 / 1894) became a professor of pathology at Goethe University Frankfurt in 1927. Being from a Jewish family, he was summarily dismissed from the university in 1933 when the National Socialists seized power. He fled to Switzerland where he founded the “Notgemeinschaft deutscher Wissenschaftler im Ausland” (Emergency Society of German Scholars Abroad) in the same year. Its aim was to find employment abroad for persecuted academics. The organisation interceded on behalf of several hundred refugee researchers. Most of them went to Turkey, where Kemal Atatürk was in the process of reforming the higher education system based on the Western European model. Schwartz personally negotiated with representatives of the Turkish government and immediately managed to secure places there for 30 researchers who had been dismissed from posts in Germany. The Emergency Society also cooperated with the Academic Assistance Council, the predecessor of the Council for At-Risk Academics. In 1934, Schwartz himself accepted a chair at the newly established Istanbul University, becoming director of the Institute of Pathology. After the Second World War, his desired return to Frankfurt University as a professor was denied him. He emigrated to the United States in the early 1950s and continued to work as a pathologist at Warren State Hospital in Pennsylvania, where he headed a geriatric research institute from 1967 onwards. Schwartz died in the United States in 1977.

The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation

The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation promotes academic cooperation between excellent scientists and scholars from abroad and from Germany. As an intermediary organisation for German foreign cultural and educational policy the Foundation promotes international cultural dialogue and academic exchange. The Alexander von Humboldt Foundation wants to recruit the world’s best minds for a research stay in Germany as well as for its international network of outstanding researchers. In all our efforts we emphatically campaign for gender equality, equal opportunities and diversity.

STIFTUNG

Inspireurope+ is an EU-funded project involving seven partners and four associated partners that strengthens and coordinates support in Europe for researchers at risk. Building on the work undertaken by the Inspireurope project (2019–2022), and under the lead of Scholars at Risk Europe at Maynooth University, Ireland, Inspireurope+ proceeds from the view that excellence in research depends upon free and open scientific debate and requires a diversity of perspectives and methodologies to flourish. Inspireurope+ partners will coordinate activities across Europe to support researchers at risk until 2025. This includes direct guidance through webinars and trainings, building institutional capacity and preparedness for support, advising national-level initiatives, informing European policy, and raising awareness to diversify support for researchers at risk in Europe.

Academics in Solidarity

For the coaching sessions in Track 1 on Wednesday, the Philipp Schwartz Initiative is proud to partner with “Academics in Solidarity” (AiS), drawing on their immense experience as a peer-mentoring programme that connects exiled researchers and established scholars in Germany, Lebanon and Jordan. It seeks to create a network of solidarity, strengthen the value of cross-cultural research cooperation and open up new perspectives within the academic environment of the host country. AiS offers support to displaced and endangered scholars through mentoring, academic counselling, systematic network building, and funding of small research endeavors. It further benefits mentors by offering them special training as well as administrative and technical support both prior to and throughout the mentoring process. The project was funded by the Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) and is currently funded and hosted by Freie Universität Berlin.

Event Information

The first day of the 2023 Philipp Schwartz and Inspireurope Stakeholder Forum will take place at the Henry Ford Building of Freie Universität Berlin. Founded by professors and students in response to the persecution of dissident students at the former Universität Unter den Linden in the then Soviet sector of the divided Berlin, Freie Universität has academic freedom in its DNA. As one of the first German members of the Scholars at Risk Network, it has upheld its tradition of protecting academic freedom and of supporting researchers and students at risk. A regular host to the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation's Annual Meeting, Freie Universität also co-hosted the 2018 Scholars at Risk Global Congress together with the Scholars at Risk Network and the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation.

The second day of the Forum will take place at "Cafe International" on Karl-Marx-Allee. This landmark of Socialist modernist architecture was built in East Berlin as a residential complex from 1961–1964, aspiring to represent a new, "international" style, characterized by a focus on transparency, reflections, and interrelatedness of inside and outside spaces. During the time of the German Democratic Republic (GDR) the building was used as a cafe and restaurant for the political elite. Its original name "Cafe Moskau" is rooted in the building's and the city's history, referring to the ties between the GDR and the Soviet Union at the time. Since 2009 the venue has been owned and managed by a private German-American corporation.

In light of the Russian Federation's war of aggression against Ukraine, the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation has obtained permission to temporarily rename the venue to "Cafe International" for the Philipp Schwartz and Inspireurope Stakeholder Forum, referring to the equally historic "Kino International" across the street and emphasizing the spirit of the event. We hope that the venue's entangled history will inspire discussions on how to reconcile our perceptions of the past with current affairs.

There will be a bus transfer between hotels Meliá and INNSIDE Berlin Mitte and the venues before the start of the programme at each venue. Alternatively, you can reach the Henry Ford Building by taking the U3 subway line via the stop Freie Universität. You can reach Cafe International with the subway line U5 via the stop Schillingstraße at Cafe International.

Parts of the programme will be offered as a hybrid event, other parts of the first day will be offered via livestream in the event app and on the Humboldt Foundation's YouTube channel.

Download the mobile app via the appropriate QR code. Open the app and join the event by entering your personal login details. In the event app you will find your personal programme and other important information.

Coaches

Dr. Matteo Garavoglia

Dr. Matteo Garavoglia is Research Associate at the University of Oxford. He lived in twelve countries and speaks English, French, German, Italian and Spanish. Matteo worked with Impulsplus for over a decade and provides workshops on the following subjects: “Almost there: preparing for the viva defense”; “Team communication: key roles and intercultural contexts”; “Rhetoric and speaking in public: an introduction to theory and practice”; “Leadership and supervision in academia: multiple perspectives for greater effectiveness”; “Visible and influential: networking at conferences and across cultures”; “Just landed: an introduction to life and academia in Germany”; “Paid to research: how to prepare successful funding applications”; “Clear, engaging and persuasive: academic writing to stand out”; “Discrimination, diversity and inclusiveness: awareness training for men in academia”; “Leading the leader: lateral leadership to manage bosses and supervisors”.

Katja Ponert

Katja Ponert is a lawyer and specialist for social law at the law firm vpmk Rechtsanwälte in Berlin-Mitte. She specializes in labor law, migration law, EU Blue Card, foreign professionals for companies, citizenship law/EU and freedom of movement law. She is also a volunteer consultant in migration law for various initiatives and organizations.

Prof. Dr. Annette Kolb

Prof. Dr. Annette Kolb is nationally active as a freelance trainer, consultant and coach for scientists. Her activities focus on topics such as strategic third-party funding acquisition and strategic career planning. Before starting her independent work in 2014, she was a professor in the Department of Biosciences at Goethe University Frankfurt and from 2015–2020 a research associate in the science coordination staff of the Senckenberg Gesellschaft für Naturforschung.

Dr. Stefan Knoll

Dr. Stefan Knoll is an Innovation Manager at Freie Universität Berlin, where he assists with the development and transfer of innovative ideas from science to market. He holds a PhD in Engineering and has researched computer-supported collaboration in Lean Startups. Since 2016, he has supported members of various universities in generating and implementing their startup ideas. He is a founding member of DENKFABRIK Universities and Entrepreneurship, an independent national initiative that aims to promote and advance entrepreneurship among students and faculty members. With extensive experience in innovation management and startup development, he is a valuable resource for anyone looking to bring their ideas to life.

Abel Polese

Abel Polese is a researcher, trainer, writer, manager and fundraiser. He is the author of “The SCOPUS Diaries and the (il)logics of Academic Survival: A Short Guide to Design Your Own Strategy and Survive Bibliometrics, Conferences, and Unreal Expectations in Academia”, a reflection on academic life, research careers and the choices and obstacles young scholars face at the beginning of their career. You can find him on Twitter at @Abiquitous and @scopusdiaries.

Dr. Mareike Raabe

Mareike Raabe has worked over a decade in the private sector as a project manager. She was responsible for large scale app installation on mobile, smart TVs and consoles. Her expertise lays with the coordination of end-to-end product development from the concept to launch. With a dedicated team, she built an Open Innovation Hub for Sky Germany for early-stage startups and intrapreneurs. Since then, she has been active in the startup ecosystem and is currently working as a startup consultant at Profund Innovation at the Freie Universität Berlin.

Dr. Amani Said

Dr. Amani Said is the founder of Success Beyond The Lab, a company that is on a mission to empower scientists in launching dream careers while making an impact in our society.

Her curiosity and passion for understanding life led her to pursue a Ph.D. in Developmental Biology at the Max-Planck Institute in Dresden, Germany. Having dealt with burn-out and mental health challenges early on in her career brought her to discover the field of personal development. Travelling all across the globe she learned from the best coaches and trainers in the field of personal growth, such as Tony Robbins, T Harv Ever, Deepak Chopra, Lisa Nichols and many more. This helped her to uncover her potential and develop a growth mindset to create a dream career and life for herself. Applying these same tools she has coached and trained over a thousand scientists in career & personal development.

“Your Career is like a never-ending experiment, be Curious, Explore and Enjoy the Re-Search - Amani Said”

Ilyas Saliba

Ilyas Saliba is a Nonresident fellow at the Global Public Policy institute in Berlin (GPPi), where he focused on democracy and human rights issues and co-developed the Academic Freedom Index (AFi). Before that he worked with Amnesty International in Berlin as MENA advocacy officer and the Center for Security Studies (CSS) in Zürich. In the course of his research, he has conducted extensive fieldwork in Egypt, Morocco and Tunisia and has been a research fellow at the WZB's research unit on democracy and democratization, as well as a visiting researcher at the European University Institute in Florence, Oxford University, the American University in Cairo and the Ecole de Gouvernance et d'Economie in Rabat. Since his fieldwork he has published widely on issues of safe and ethical fieldwork and trained university administrators and scholars in preparing and conducting fieldwork.

Alexander von Humboldt Foundation

Enno Aufderheide

Dr. Enno Aufderheide is the Secretary General of the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation. He previously held positions at the German Aerospace Centre, served as head of the Research Department at the German Council of Science and Humanities, as executive director of the Helmholtz Association, and as head of the Research Policy and External Relations Department at the Max Planck Society. He also managed the Minerva Foundation for the promotion of German-Israeli academic cooperation. He has been a member of national and international committees for the promotion of science and authored numerous academic and science policy publications, for which he received distinctions such as the Kussmaul Medal of the German Society for Rheumatology. An alumnus of the German National Academic Foundation, he studied biology at the universities of Bielefeld and Bonn and was a Fulbright Fellow at the University of Colorado in Boulder, USA. He worked on his doctoral dissertation at the Max Planck Society's Friedrich Miescher Laboratory and obtained his doctorate from Tübingen University.

Judith Wellen

Dr. Judith Wellen is head of the Strategy department at the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation and the Foundation's Representative for External Relations. She served as head of the International Strategy Office at Humboldt Universität zu Berlin and as personal advisor to the president of the university. Previously, she was head of several executive training programmes at the Goethe Institut. Following studies in Tübingen, Dublin, Berlin and Madrid, she was an associated fellow of the German-French graduate school "Institutional Orders, Text and Symbols" at École Pratique des Hautes Études-Sorbonne, Paris, and Technische Universität Dresden. Wellen holds an M.A. in Art History and Cultural Anthropology from Humboldt Universität, and a Ph.D. with distinction in Art History from Freie Universität Berlin. Her numerous grants include a Ph.D. scholarship from the Cusanuswerk (Episcopal Scholarship Foundation). Her dissertation examined the relationship between art and politics, in particular the subject of political iconography in Early Modern Spain.

Identity protection

The organisers are aware that attendees may have to consider security concerns. While the Forum is by invitation only, it will be open to attendees from various backgrounds, possibly including members of the press. Parts of the Forum will also be broadcast online via YouTube (day 1) or via closed virtual rooms through the event website Let's Get Digital (parts of day 2). The organisers may document parts of the event via photo, video or screenshots for public relations purposes. Special measures to protect vulnerable participants will be in place, such as „no photo zones“ in each conference room. Attendees are requested not to take photographs or videos where other attendees might be visible.

The 2023 Philipp Schwartz and Inspireurope Stakeholder Forum, convened by the Alexander von Humboldt Foundation's Philipp Schwartz Initiative and Inspireurope+, will bring together up to 400 scholars, host institutions, and partner organisations across Europe to address topics related to the protection of academic freedom and the support of researchers at risk. Researchers, administrators and other stakeholders will present their perspectives on institutional, national, European and global initiatives to promote academic freedom and support scholars. A particular focus will be placed on mutual learning opportunities for at-risk scholars, academic mentors, and administrators working to support at-risk academics and to strengthen academic freedom. European and national government officials and other policymakers will also participate alongside representatives from NGOs, SAR sections, and higher education institutions across Europe.
